Drillinginfo, the leading SaaS company providing asset and activity analytics, optimization tools and business intelligence to E&P stakeholders, has once again been the leading “Business Fundraiser” of the 2016 Amplify Austin. This marks the fourth year in a row that Drillinginfo has led local businesses in fundraising for the organization.

“Drillinginfo was founded in Austin and continues to be deeply ingrained in our unique city,” said Allen Gilmer, President and CEO of Drillinginfo. “We’re proud to support Amplify Austin and even prouder that our employees are once again generously supporting local causes close to their hearts. The fact that they’ve stepped up to lead the community in giving, not just once but for four years in a row, makes me personally very proud as a CEO.”

100 percent of Drillinginfo’s Austin employees participated in Amplify Austin this year, donating a total of $57,274 to causes including the American Cancer Society, Capital Area Foodbank, Austin Pets Alive, and more.

“It is companies like Drillinginfo that make Amplify Austin Day grow each year,” said Celeste Flores, Executive Director of I Live Here I Give Here. “The dedication to promoting and participating in the day, the matching funds and the incredible sponsorship that supports all 611 nonprofits is a true commitment to giving back to where you live, work and play. On behalf of the lives you have changed, thank you!”
